

The RSM Money Script Workbook

Find the Money Story You Were Handed, and Write a Better One

By Darrell Thompson | Right Side of Money

You didn't choose your first money beliefs. They were handed to you. What you saw, heard, and lived through as a child became a set of unspoken rules about money, what financial psychologists call money scripts. Research by Dr. Brad Klontz and Dr. Ted Klontz found that certain scripts, like believing money is bad, that more money will fix everything, or that your worth equals your net worth, are linked to lower income, lower net worth, and more credit card debt. The good news: a script that was written can be rewritten. This workbook shows you how.

01 The Six Money Personalities

Type	The Script	Strength	Blind Spot
The Survivor	"There's never enough, and it could all disappear."	Saves consistently, avoids debt	Fear keeps money in cash and joy on hold
The Avoider	"If I don't look at it, it can't hurt me."	Not driven by greed or status	Fees, interest, and missed chances grow unseen
The Chaser	"One big break fixes everything."	Ambition and action	Hype, scams, and skipping steady wealth
The Image Keeper	"I need to look like I've made it."	Pride, drive, presentation	Lifestyle debt and spending to impress
The Rescuer	"If someone I love is struggling, I have to fix it."	Generous and loyal	Their future pays for everyone else's present
The Builder	"Wealth gets built slowly, on purpose."	Systems, balance, purpose	Plateaus and plans no one else can follow

My main type: _____ My secondary type: _____

02 Your Money Story

Answer honestly. Nobody sees this but you. Your answers show where your script came from.

1. What's your earliest memory about money? How did it make you feel?

2. What did the adults in your home say about money, or never say?

3. What did you see them do with money, especially when it was tight?

4. What's one money rule you still follow without thinking about it?

5. When do you feel the most anxious, ashamed, or excited about money?

6. If your money habits could talk, what would they say they're protecting you from?

03 Rewrite Your Script

Write an old belief, where you think it came from, and a new script that's true and helpful. Read your new scripts out loud every morning for 30 days.

Old Script

Where It Came From

New Script

Example: "There's never enough."

Watching my parents struggle every month

"I have enough for today, and a plan for tomorrow."

04 Catch Your Triggers

The 10-Minute Rule: when you feel the pull of your pattern, the urge to hide from a bill, chase a deal, buy to impress, rescue someone, or panic and cut everything, pause for ten minutes before you act. Breathe, name the feeling, and ask: "Is this my script talking, or my plan?"

Date

What Triggered Me

What I Felt

What I Did Instead

05 Your 30-Day Reset Tracker

Each day, read your new scripts out loud and check the box. Use the weekly focus from your results for each week.

DAY 1 ☐	DAY 2 ☐	DAY 3 ☐	DAY 4 ☐	DAY 5 ☐	DAY 6 ☐
DAY 7 ☐	DAY 8 ☐	DAY 9 ☐	DAY 10 ☐	DAY 11 ☐	DAY 12 ☐
DAY 13 ☐	DAY 14 ☐	DAY 15 ☐	DAY 16 ☐	DAY 17 ☐	DAY 18 ☐
DAY 19 ☐	DAY 20 ☐	DAY 21 ☐	DAY 22 ☐	DAY 23 ☐	DAY 24 ☐
DAY 25 ☐	DAY 26 ☐	DAY 27 ☐	DAY 28 ☐	DAY 29 ☐	DAY 30 ☐

Week	My Focus This Week	Done?
Week 1
Week 2
Week 3
Week 4

06 The Couples and Family Money Conversation

Most money fights aren't about money. They're two money scripts colliding. Have each person take the Money Personality Assessment, then talk through these questions without judging each other's answers:

- ☐ What's your money personality, and does it feel true?
- ☐ What did money look like in the home you grew up in?
- ☐ When we argue about money, which of our scripts are colliding?
- ☐ What's one thing about your type you'd like me to understand?
- ☐ What's one shared goal we can both get excited about this year?

Ground rules: one person talks at a time, no "you always" or "you never," and end with one small action you'll both take this week.

07 My Commitment

The script I'm retiring:

The script I'm choosing instead:

The first action I'll take this week:

Signed: _____ Date: _____

Ready to go further? Keep your new script next to your copy of Creating A Wealth Building Mindset 2nd Edition and reread it every time you open the book. Then turn it into daily habits with the 30-Day Mindset and Money Challenge, or book a free Discovery Call with Darrell Thompson to turn your pattern into a plan.

Take the free Money Personality Assessment at rightsideofmoney.com/money-personality-quiz.html to see your type and full money mix.

For education and self-reflection only. Not a psychological evaluation or financial advice. Money personality types are inspired by research on money scripts by Dr. Brad Klontz and Dr. Ted Klontz, including "Money Beliefs and Financial Behaviors: Development of the Klontz Money Script Inventory," Journal of Financial Therapy, 2011. © 2026 Right Side of Money. RSM® is a registered trademark.